

Cart Sharing – Fourplex, townhouse or row house with a suite

Background

The Waste Bylaw defines “Residential Dwelling” as a building containing 4 or fewer dwelling units. The Waste Bylaw states that The City will provide waste collection services to all Residential Dwellings unless it is operationally impractical to do so.

As Calgary works to increase density in residential areas, WRS has started to see suites in fourplex and row house style developments. These are residential developments that would be best serviced through WRS with Residential Cart Collection Service. Due to space constraints for cart storage and set out, WRS has established the following processes to manage number of carts provided.

Waste & Recycling Services encourages developers, owners, and occupants to consider cart sharing between units to reduce the number of carts at each location. Waste & Recycling Services also encourages developers, owners, and occupants to consider a communal cart storage area to accommodate sharing between units to reduce the number of carts at each location.
